The Shandon Bells is an Irish-themed bar and restaurant named after the bells of Shandon Church in Cork and is located on the ground floor of Villamartin Plaza, a shopping center next to the emblematic Villamartin Golf course. 100 percent ready for operation from the start. With all licenses and permits. If you have any questions, contact us as soon as possible. Currently, the bar is only focused on tourists and is busy approximately 26 weeks a year. If changes are made, another approach could be given and thus increase occupancy and therefore sales. The pub has a music license so it can open from noon to 4am. This also...(Ask for More Details!)
